What's your SHU? (Scoville Heat Unit) In 1912 Wilbur Scoville developed this measurement for the heat level of chile peppers. A number was assigned to each chile pepper based on how much liquid was needed before you would no longer taste (feel) the heat!

Prepared with a choice of unique sauces of their own creation, Quaker Steak & Lube®'s wings began to attract a large following. In 1988, they received their first major award voted "Best Wings in the USA," winning the National Chicken-Out competition in Cleveland, Ohio. Today, there are 21 different wing sauces with their degrees of "hotness" described on the menu's "Wing-O-Meter."

The "cult" following of its wings, spurred by an imaginative promotional schedule, has made Quaker Steak & Lube® immensely popular. The Lube® claims a wide and highly loyal base of customers, a demographic that chain executives call "2 to 82!" Truckloads of chicken wings arrive daily from the nation's top chicken processors, and Tabasco® and Frank's RedHot® sauce are purchased in 55-gallon drums.

Since 1997, Quaker Steak & Lube® franchises have opened in other locations throughout the United States. Check out all The Lube® locations below!

QUAKERSTEAKANDLUBE.COM

In 1974, Co-founders Gary "Moe" Meszaros and George "Jig" Warren bought a vacant automobile service station in Sharon, PA and converted it into a restaurant and bar appropriately named "Quaker Steak & Lube®." Its simple menu featured steaks, burgers, salads and baked potatoes, and customers were invited to "cook your own steak." But the primary attraction was the venue itself, filled with a fantastic array of automotive memorabilia. Classic cars, racing cars, hot rods and motorcycles hung from the ceiling, and the floor and walls were crowded with old gas pumps and racing paraphernalia.

In 1976, the menu was expanded to include the newly popular Buffalo-style chicken wings.

Fun Facts

The "Handle Bar" motorcycle room displays original Harley Davidson motorcycles, Indian motorcycles and a lot of really cool other bikes.

Our mounted license plate collection is intact running from 1910 to the present. (Do you know why there is no full-size license plate for 1943?)

Preliminary studies report that capsaicin, the hot stuff in our Atomic Sauce, actually stimulates nerve fibers to release a hormone which is rumored to be an aphrodisiac.

Quaker Steak & Lube® Sauces are all Award-Winning recipes.

Annually, Quaker Steak & Lube® serves 70 million wings systemwide.
